WASHINGTON, July 15.—Howard Hughes' world flight may have a drastic effect on America's future defense strategy, it was learned today.

As the young millionaire's silver monoplane completed the last leg of its phenomenal air journey, the same high command studied possibilities for protecting the United States from possible air invasion.

American new defense strategy calls for permanent maintenance of two fleets, one the naval force of battleships, cruisers, aircraft carriers, destroyers and submarines, and a new fleet of the air composed of 4,000 long-range bombers and fighters.

Experts Watched Flight.
Military experts here and in Europe and Asia watched the Hughes record flight with the sharpest interest. The chief lesson derived from the military mind from the flight is that it is a spectacular demonstration of the fact that oceans and long distances no longer afford the protection from attack they did a few years ago.

An enemy air armada today can strike a devastating blow at any European capital within two or three hours—some within a matter of minutes instead of hours. Hughes' 16-hour and 35-minute flight from New York to Paris demonstrated in startling fashion that even the United States, so long protected by the Atlantic and Pacific oceans from the political quarrels of Europe and Asia, is fast losing its invulnerability.

To Meet Situation.
America's army and navy strategists have not been unmindful of the full possibilities opened by the swift development of aviation. To this end they have laid plans for erecting an air screen around the United States to ward off the new threat, just as the American navy will complete protection before the airplane is faster a potent new weapon of deadly high speed attack.

By June 30, 1940, the United States will have a combined first-line force of an excess of 4,000 planes. The army air force will be composed of 2,320 of the latest type of high-speed fighting planes and the navy will have approximately 2,000 International News Service was informed.

America's present air strength is in the neighborhood of 3,000 first-class fighting ships. The army, on June 30, had 1,573 planes in addition to several hundred others rapidly reaching obsolescence. It has 699 on order from funds appropriated during 1937 and 1938 and will purchase an additional 459 with 1939 funds.

The navy's air force is composed of 1,415 modern planes, with an additional 325 on order and funds amounting to $43,000,000 for additional purchases during the coming year.

McADOO PROVIDES
PRESIDENT WITH TOUCHY PROBLEM

Camps have been bombarding the presidential train with protests against any Rooseveltian endorsement of McAdoo in the state-wide campaign that if there is a means a split Democratic party in November, endangering Democratic success.

What effect these bombardments have had is not yet apparent. McAdoo rode with the president in his tour of the bay region of San Francisco all of Thursday. McAdoo sat on the president's right at a luncheon where he devoted his speech to international affairs and invited the world to a new disarmament conference.

Neither Downey nor Preston was present. Downey had telegraphed a warning that Mr. Roosevelt would invite trouble if he endorsed McAdoo.

In any event, Mr. Roosevelt completed his first day and night in California without a specific endorsement of Senator McAdoo, notwithstanding his "Dear Mac" letter of several months ago.

Six Candidates For Governor.
In opening his speech at the Golden Gate International Exposition yesterday, with McAdoo alongside, Mr. Roosevelt simply said, "Governor Merriam and my friends of California." Governor Merriam is a Republican candidate for re-election.

There are six candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, most of whom are claiming New Deal support, and are proclaiming themselves New Dealers.

Confronted with such a situation, Mr. Roosevelt passed the first part of his three-day visit of California without a commitment. He did not endorse Senator McAdoo, nor did he take any sides in the many-sided gubernatorial race.

So far in California, Mr. Roosevelt has elected to be "the president of the United States" who takes no part in local politics, rather than to be "the head of the Democratic party" who "reserves the right" to speak in intra-party matters.

It is expected, however, that sooner or later Mr. Roosevelt will bestow the presidential blessing on McAdoo. He could hardly do otherwise after inviting "Dear Mac" to be a candidate for re-election at the age of 75, but he did not do it in San Francisco. And today the president spent the entire day viewing the magnificence of the redwoods in Yosemite National Park—an all day trip, in which no speeches were scheduled.

to State University. There are so many colleges and so few universities. The latter name may sound better, but students from a university don't get any further than those from a college, unless they have something to ride on besides their sheepskin.

One would naturally think that a kitchen would seek a shady place in which to lie down these hot days, but during the past week Pa New has seen a number lying in show windows, eyes closed, completely absorbing the sun's rays through plate glass. These were just ordinary house cats. It is barely possible that some of the pedigreed cats found in our best society would have more sense, but it's doubtful. "Cats in cats," just the same as "pigs in pigs."

Delayed celebration of The Fourth was taking place at one of the camps in the vicinity of Elliott's Mills, on the Harlansburg-Slippery Rock highway last night. Aerial fireworks were being displayed.

There was a lot of light fog floating around the river and creek valleys in this district last night.

There is some indication that the building boom is getting a little more active throughout the country. It is said to be about twelve per cent greater than during the early spring. It is often said that a building boom could pull the country out of the depression. However, with so many on the relief rolls at low wages it seems to be a problem how to build houses that can be rented at the rent that they are able to pay.

It will probably interest a great many of our fellow townsmen to know that reports from the rural districts indicate that there will be a good elderly crop this year.

There are three ordained Baptist ministers in the local First Baptist church in addition to the pastor, Dr. C. H. Heaton. They are: Rev. Alma Broadhead, Rev. H. G. Woodrow and Dr. J. W. Neyman.

While speaking to Clare Lutz, one of the local post office clerks, he mentioned that two of his sons were very interested in aviation, and in Hughes' round the world flight. He told them Hughes would make the trip in 90 hours. Yesterday morning, after the great airship had left Minneapolis, Lutz said, "Hughes will make it in 91 1/2 hours." What a guesser, just three minutes off.

John Davies of Martin street, reports on his return from a fishing trip in the Allegheny mountains for the past week, that he caught a bass measuring nineteen inches at Bassman's Edge.

Just in case you have forgotten, today is St. Bartholomew's day, supposed to be an indicator of weather conditions for the next forty days.

The Neshannock, below the Mill street bridge, resembles a fisherman's paradise, especially in the evening hours. Of late, Pa New has noticed quite a few Isaac Walton's trying their luck after dusk. The small lanterns from an appealing scene from far off.

VISIT OF KING TO FRANCE HELD AS SIGNIFICANT

George and Queen Elizabeth, the most important royal visit since Edward VII came here in 1904 to create an entente.

Formally, it is merely protocol for every new British monarch to visit Paris. Actually, by a carefully-arranged "accident," the visit coincides with the desire of both governments to impress on the world, but particularly on Adolf Hitler, that their old friendship has been revived, stronger than ever, to resist the same test it withstood in 1914-18.

This is the first of things that neither government wants to say officially, but the chronological record of events shows how happily they have arranged to celebrate with the glory of a royal reception Europe's most important political event since Hitler came to power.

Hearty Welcome Seen.
King George's welcome will be far more hearty than that accorded Edward VII.

ward VII, whose visit in 1904 came when Frenchmen, still smarting over Fashoda, the Sudan, and elsewhere, French troops were forced to retire, hushed him in the streets.

"I didn't hear anything," urbanely replied Edward when French officials apologized.

Since 1918, both governments frequently have been called upon to overlook incidents which not only threatened, but in the case of the Ruhr occupation in 1923, actually paralyzed the entente for a considerable time.

Until the advent of the Nazis to power in 1933, the entente was so completely in abeyance that Hitler, justified in making his primary foreign political aim the permanent political estrangement of France and England and the seeking of an English-German alliance or, failing in that, securing of a guarantee of benevolent neutrality on the part of England.

His reoccupation of the Rhineland and tearing up of the Locarno treaty spoiled these plans. A fortnight after German troops entered the Rhineland, the entente showed signs of life again when the French and British general staffs met to exchange information on March 19, 1935.

Entente Revived.
Then the entente seemed to slumber until Hitler's seizure of Austria frightened both countries into their present phase of active cooperation.

In order to make their determination known to Hitler, the new premier, Edouard Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet visited London in April and on the 27th of that month it was announced that staff talks would continue and George and Elizabeth would visit Paris.

As though it were a test of their seriousness, just three weeks later came the news of the concentration of German troops on the Czechoslovakian border, and on May 21 the French and British warned Germany to halt or take the consequences.

This was the first time the two democracies stood up to Hitler with the conscious risk of war.

The fact that they succeeded has changed the whole atmosphere of the continent, where the feeling had taken root that Germany's intent was irresistible.

The hope now is strong that if Berlin can be persuaded that the entente means business, peace may be preserved, for its military and economic weight is far greater than that of the axis.

Next week's royal visit is expected to lead to peaceful aims.

No official announcement has been made yet, but it is confidently expected that, in order to church the effect of the royal visit, as well as to meet the demands of international courtesy, President Albert Lebrun will probably repay the call in London, perhaps in October.

in excess of $150,000,000 in silver coins from the Chinese nationalist government, an International News Service disclosed.

Purchase of Chinese silver in this country has proceeded at the rate of $4,500,000 a week since January 1, U. S. treasury and department of commerce statistics show.

During last November and December $16,055,476 in Chinese silver coins poured into the United States via London to finance China's hard-pressed military forces.

The transfer of Chinese silver coins into America currency has taken place under a silver purchase agreement between the United States and Chinese governments, the treasury renewed yesterday.

While details of the new agreement were withheld by the treasury, it was understood to provide for additional purchase of $50,000,000 of Chinese silver.

The American currency is being used to give China a sound basis for purchase of huge quantities of war materials here and abroad.

SLAYS HIS GIRL
THEN REPORTS TO POLICE OFFICERS

custody by County Detectives John Carmichael and Frank Ritz. It was Ritz who quoted Tony as explaining he planned the killing for weeks because of jealousy. Ten days ago, according to Ritz, he bought the hunting knife.

In Tony's billfold police found several pictures of him and Caroline. There were two long notes. One read:

"I am going to kill her because she is no good. Since I was big enough to understand I wanted a girl I could love. I could not find one. The best thing I could do is kill her and myself."

Tony confessed his love faded when the time came to plan the "right" knife, with its two-point blade, into his own heart.

Tells Of Slaying.
The detectives said Tony told them he met Caroline last night about 6 o'clock. They had just around the country-side. Tony had a few beers, he said, and they danced. Then they went to the last of Mossdale boulevard, between Piquette and the Lincoln highway. They sat in the car and talked, he continued.

Then, according to the detectives, Tony suggested the girl. As she slumped against him, bewildered and dazed, he plunged the knife into her body, again and again, until his fingers bled.

He sat in the car until Caroline died, the detectives said. He saw her body princess-style dress turn a sickening purple. His white sports shirt became red. Then he tried to turn the car around and failed.

Caroline was one of 13 children. Her mother said she and Tony planned to marry in September.

Following the serving of a delicious menu at noon, games and races held the attention of the youthful guests. The climax of the afternoon's entertainment was the inspection of the farm, which proved both interesting and educational to the children.

SHARE PARTY HONORS AT C. E. BLACK HOME

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Black of North Crawford avenue, was the scene of a lovely party Thursday evening, when the former entertained a gathering of friends to honor his wife, Mrs. Black, the occasion marking her birthday anniversary.

Taking the honored one by surprise, the assemblage surrounded her at an early hour, and showered her with many good wishes. Later in the evening, Mrs. Fred Nicklin presented Mrs. Black with a handsome gift in behalf of those gathered. Also, she presented a similar gift to Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Ishler, who shared honors, their being in the form of a farewell to the members. The Ishlers will move to Cleveland, O., on Wednesday to take up residence.

Bridge held sway afterwards, four tables of players entering into the rout. Mrs. O. A. Ishler and John Morgan captured the top score trophies, while a special contest award was given to Fred Nicklin.

A most tempting buffet lunch was served as the concluding feature, beautifully appointed in pastel colors. A bouquet of flowers formed the centerpiece, and numerous bouquets decorated the rooms throughout.

Adding Mr. Black in arranging the affair, who are due much credit for the evening's success too, were a committee of three, Mrs. G. S. Jenkins, Mrs. Fred Nicklin and O. A. Ishler.

Mrs. Guy Francis, Hostess.

Mrs. Guy Francis, Division street, was a pleasing hostess to members of the C. E. club Wednesday evening when they gathered in her home for a chicken and dumpling dinner. Special guests for the occasion were Mrs. Adeline Volpe, Mrs. Floyd Champ and Mrs. Nick D'Alton.

The dinner was served following the business session and Mrs. Francis' aides were Mrs. Floyd Simlone and Mrs. Champ. Four tables of 500 were played afterwards with prizes falling to Mrs. Samuel Di Blase, Mrs. Samuel Coli, Mrs. Adeline Volpe and Mrs. Michael De Caprio. Mrs. Simlone captured the club prize.

On Sunday, July 17, the group will have a picnic dinner at Cascade park. In two weeks, Mrs. Samuel Di Blase will entertain at the park.

Union Label League

Women's Union Label League No. 456, met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Wallace block. Plans were made for the annual picnic to be held at Cascade Park on the 17th, Wednesday, in August.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, July 26. Following the business session a birthday party will be held for all members having anniversaries in January and July. Mrs. Blanche Snodgrass is chairman of this event and made arrangements that each person having a birthday should take a small gift. A lunch and social time will follow.

Mrs. McIntosh, Hostess.

Mrs. James McIntosh entertained members of the B. P. W. club when they gathered for their fortnightly meeting in her home on the Wilmington road Thursday evening.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening, with prizes falling to Mrs. James Mitchell and Miss Jane Montgomery. Mrs. Ray Miller was a special guest for the evening. At an appropriate hour the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Carrie B. McCracken, served a delectable lunch.

Mrs. Ann Huckles will receive the club into her home on Allen street for their next meeting, Thursday, July 28.

News And Views From State Capital

HARRISBURG, July 15—Political leaders, gathered here for the annual session of the Pennsylvania legislature, have today begun a series of public hearings on the proposed new constitution. The hearings will be held in the executive mansion. The constitution, which was drafted by a committee of the legislature, is being presented to the people for their approval. The hearings will continue through the week.

This being the customary season for the legislature, many of the members are accompanied by their families. The executive mansion is crowded with guests. The hearings are being held in the large hall of the mansion. The constitution is being presented to the people for their approval. The hearings will continue through the week.

A special session of the legislature would be the second of its kind in the history of the commonwealth. The first was in 1907 when a Republican legislature investigated the corruption of the state government. The investigation resulted in the impeachment of several officials. The legislature has since been reformed.

The approach of dog days found many owners of dogs contributing to the state treasury.

to the upkeep of the Pennsylvania game commission. The commission reported that penalties totaling $4,475 were imposed during May and June for violations of the game code.

The capital, in conjunction with other cities in the state, may soon have its first public housing project. A fourteen-acre plot has been purchased just west of the Harrisburg military post for the site. The proposed housing project is part of the federal-state $88,000,000 low-cost housing program for Pennsylvania. Actual construction is expected to start soon at the Altoona and Pittsburgh projects.

A feature of the new farm show building, now under construction, is the state farm show area which is being planned for use as a skating and hockey rink. The work on the farm show building is said to be two months ahead of contract schedule and will be completed by November. The arena covers three and one-half acres and has a floor space of 240 by 120 feet. It will contain 7500 permanent seats but can hold 15,000 persons if necessary. The arena will be the largest in the capital. It is planned to hold flower shows, and other shows there in addition to the annual state farm show.

Reports from Washington are that complaints have been made before the senate campaign expenditures committee to the effect that the Republican party in Pennsylvania is attempting to gain control of the state government. The charges were made by Bernard Davidowitz, of Philadelphia, state chairman of the Royal Oak party, which polled less than 200 votes in the primary election. The Royal Oak party was the political organ of Senator Charles E. Coughlin in 1936.

The department of property and supplies has opened bids for 100,000 tons of anthracite coal for more than 20 state-operated institutions. Up to several weeks ago all fuel was purchased by the trustees of the various institutions.

Will Construct Radio Station

Announcement Made of Plans For Local Broadcasting Station

MAIN STUDIOS IN CATHEDRAL ROOMS

Announcement is made today that Lawrence County is to have a brand new radio station. The Federal Communications Commission has approved the application of the Lawrence Broadcasting Company to erect a radio broadcasting station at New Castle, the center of Lawrence county. It is announced that the call letters will be WKST.

Officers of the Lawrence Broadcasting Company are: President, S. W. White; Vice President, A. H. Wade; Secretary, H. H. Wade; Treasurer, S. R. Wade; and General Manager, R. G. Wade. All of these officers are residents of New Castle.

General offices and main studios will be in the Cathedral Building, East Lincoln avenue, and the transmitting equipment will be installed in an especially built transmitter house, on one of the high hills between New Castle and Ellwood City, the official site.

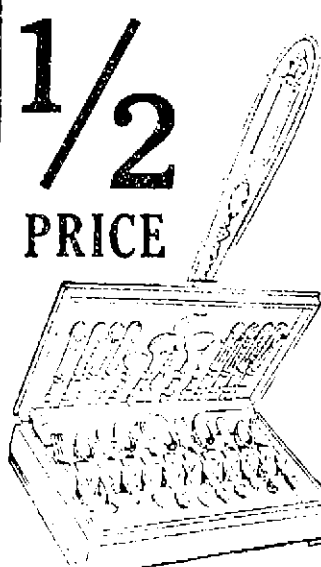

The preparation plans to install the Westinghouse Electric transmitting equipment. The station will have a power of 250 watts, on a regional channel, which is 1250 kilocycles. Work will shortly commence on the new modern sound proof, and acoustically treated studios in the Cathedral building, the company announced. Studios, control room, reception room and offices will cover approximately 3,000 square feet on the upper floor of the Cathedral. Programs emanating from the Cathedral will be carried by telephone lines to the transmitter in the country and then broadcast to an area of approximately 50 miles. WKST announces that they will have National Broadcasting Company Theatrical service, plus the best of local talent, and are planning on regular news broadcasts, also have made arrangements to use the $75,000 pipe organ of the Cathedral at any time, and otherwise offer a selected bill of program fare.

This station is also planning studios in Westminster College, in New Wilmington, to permit the broadcasting the excellent musical talent of the faculty and the student body of the college. Plans are also being considered for a studio in Ellwood City, it is stated.

SPRAY EVERGREENS TO CONTROL SPRUCE MITES

Evergreen foliage having a rusty, unhealthy appearance has probably been attacked by spruce mites.

The spruce mite attacks various types of evergreens but seems to prefer spruce, junipers and cedars. It is particularly injurious to blue spruce. Trees on which the mites are working often take on a greyish or bronze appearance.

The mites are more difficult to control than the common red spider often found on other vines. The best control measure is the application of a dormant oil spray in the spring before growth begins. Where this was not applied, pine flakes dissolves at the rate of 1/2 pounds to 10 gallons of water makes a very effective summer spray.

Another suggested method is 1 pound of bill poster paste in 25 gallons of water. To this should be added a pound of skim milk powder as a spreader. This mixture will control the mites without appreciable spoiling the appearance of the foliage.

COW TESTING ASSOCIATION REPORT

Wayne Walker, tester for the Lawrence County Cow Testing Association, reports that 37 cows in the association produced over 50 pounds of butter fat each during the month of June, and 86 cows produced over 40 pounds of butter fat. There were 12 cows producing over 1,200 pounds of milk, and 38 producing over 1,000 pounds of milk. These cows are included in the 328 cows that were tested during the month.

A registered Jersey cow known as No. 85 in the herd of Lauren Thompson, Wilmington township, was the high cow in both milk and fat production, with 1,566 pounds of milk, and 68.9 pounds of fat for the month.

The three herds with the highest average butter fat production for the month were those of N. E. Sampson, Lauren Thompson and R. N. Moore, all of Wilmington township.

R. W. Harlanbach, Beaver county, R. N. Moore, Wilmington township, and W. J. Duff of North Beaver township owned the three high milk producing herds in the association for the month of June.

UNCOMFORTABLE LAYING HOUSES MAY CAUSE SMALL EGGS

Many farm flock owners have noticed that smaller eggs are produced by the laying flock during extremely warm weather. This decrease in egg size may reach 15 or 20 per cent and will affect the net flock return.

Anything that will make the laying house more comfortable will be helpful at this time. Cellular sash openings, every 20 feet in the back of the house, will permit cross ventilation. The insulating of the roof with sawdust shavings, straw or insulating board will help keep out the extreme heat.

DEEP CULTIVATION MAY INJURE POTATOES

Some studies concerning potato cultivation show that potato roots may penetrate to a depth of over two feet in normal soil, but the greatest development is in the surface 1 or 2 inches.

If these roots are not disturbed they come within a half inch of the surface. Where these shallow roots were broken by cultivation three to six inches soon developed at the break. Most of these branches continued to grow in the same general direction as the parent root so that pruning did not force them downward to any great extent.

The root pruning checked at least temporarily the growth of the plant. Apparently root pruning with the cultivator to make the plant root deeper and withstand drought is a mistake. The surface soil contains the most available plant food and roots should be encouraged there. These surface roots will also get the greatest benefit from showers which wet the soil only a few inches.

These studies showed that rural varieties planted four inches deep in sandy loam soil produced at the rate of 469.2 bushels per acre where the soil was never cultivated. The yield was only 395.2 bushels where the roots were pruned weekly for four weeks after the potatoes were four inches high as would be the case with deep close cultivation.

Cultivation is the only economical method of weed control but all unnecessary breaking of the roots should be avoided. In late cultivation use sweeps instead of the shovel—it will cut off all weeds and leave potato roots, and will leave the soil level.

All cultivation should stop when blooming and tuber setting starts. Later cultivation not only causes root damage but may increase trouble from stem-end discoloration.

CLEAN GRANARIES BEFORE THRESHING

All farmers are urged to clean their granaries and inspect both the granary and stored grain for weevil before threshing time.

Much stored grain is infested with weevil. This should be treated and the granary cleaned before new grain is stored. If possible, remove all old grain, both wheat and oats, before the new grain is threshed. The granary should be thoroughly cleaned. This includes the removal of all dust and filth from cracks and crevices. Then be sure the granary is air-tight and treat with five pounds carbon-di-sulphide per 1,000 cubic feet of space. If it is not possible to remove all old grain, use an additional three pounds of carbon-di-sulphide for each 100 bushels of grain.

Care should be exercised in using this material as it is combustible. Keep all open flame lights away from it. Allow the granary to remain closed for 36 to 48 hours and air it out well before any person goes into it.

More information on weevil control may be obtained by calling at the Agricultural Extension Association office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle, Pa.

CHOOSE SLIPS CAREFULLY FOR MOST SATISFACTION

To help give that neat and well-fitted appearance to a dress, a carefully selected slip is essential. Whether the slip be silk, cotton, or rayon, the same questions arise when home-makers visit the lingerie department.

Miss Julia Markle, home economics extension representative of Lawrence county, gives the answer to a few of the most outstanding questions regarding the buying of slips.

Q. If we wear a size 18 dress, what size slip should we buy?

A. Have your bust and hip measurements taken carefully. Bias cut slips should be bought according to bust size, but straight cut slips, because they do not have as much "give" through the hips, should be bought according to hip measure. The safest way to get a well-fitted slip is to try it on as it is to be worn. Sit down in it to check any ample width without straining the seams. See which cut of slip fits most smoothly over the bust and under the arms without bulging at the waistline.

Q. Why do some slips split and blister more quickly than others?

A. Blistering and splitting are due to the chafing of seams. This occurs in loosely woven fabrics and in fabrics which are heavily sized. Test or size of rubbing the fabric briskly. If much white powder comes out of the fabric, you will know that when the slip is washed this sizing will be removed and the material will be limp. Test or a firm close weave by pulling the fabric apart and stretching it over the fingers. If the yarns slip and tend to stretch apart, you will know that the fabric is too loosely woven to be serviceable. An excess of weighing also causes fabrics to split.

Q. What kind of seams are strongest in a slip?

A. French seams, flat-fell seams, and lock-stitched seams are strongest. Which ever type is used, it should be flat and smooth with small stitches and strong thread. No raw edges should show on either the right or wrong side of the seam. Many slips now carry guarantees of rip-proof seams.

Q. What is meant by a "pure dye" silk slip?

A. "Pure dye" means that white or light colored silks contain 10 per cent or less weighing; dark silks, 15 per cent or less. This amount of weighing is not enough to injure the fiber in any way. Silks not labeled "pure dye" may have an excess of weighing which will cause the fabric to crack and wear out prematurely.

Q. Why does some lace on slips wear out more quickly than others?

A. Lace which has heavy cords running through it to form part of the design will tend to pull into holes more quickly than lace which is woven with threads uniform in size and thickness. If a slip top is trimmed with lace be sure that the slip straps are attached to the fabric of the slip and not only to the lace trim. If the straps are made to branch off and attach in two places rather than one, the strain is distributed and the lace is less apt to tear.

MEAT ORGANS HAVE IRON

Meat organs are a rich source of iron. Pork, beef and lamb liver are just as valuable sources of iron as the more expensive veal liver, report home economics extension specialists at the Pennsylvania State college. Heart, kidney and brains should not be overlooked, for they also supply iron.

Kane Is Opposed To Special Call For Legislature

Pittsburgh Democratic Leader
Says Move Would Be
"Silly" Procedure

PITTSBURGH, July 15.—The calling of a special session of the legislature to block the threatened grand jury investigation of graft charges against the Erie administration would be a "silly procedure," County Commissioner John Kane, a Democrat in the same faction as Gov. George H. Earle, declared here today.

Furthermore, he added, a special session would be a waste of time and money. "It is not a favorable sign," he said, "to have a special session."

Kane's remarks were made in a letter to the members of the Erie County Board of Supervisors, who are considering a resolution to call a special session of the legislature.

Kane did not so state but it was indicated from his statement that he himself is not favorable toward the idea of a special session.

It reports from Harrisburg are correct that Governor Earle is threatening against the advice of many Democratic leaders to call a special session for the purpose of investigating the so-called charges that the Dauphin county grand jury proposes to investigate. It is a former member of the general assembly who takes the liberty to suggest to the present members that this would be a very serious mistake and would practically destroy the chances of electing a good Democrat and a great supporter (Charles Alvin Jones, in November, Kane said.

"If I were still a member and loved to attend a special session, I would immediately seek the adjournment to prevent such a silly procedure."

Claim Club Has Violated Charter

Quo Warranto Proceedings
Brought Against The Hungarian-American Club

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through District Attorney John G. Lammone, has brought quo warranto proceedings against the Hungarian-American Club of this city, in which the club is charged to have violated its charter.

According to the return filed, a petition was filed for a charter had been presented to the legislature for the purpose of social enjoyment, the study of American ideals and customs, and the education of its members through a properly equipped reading room.

It is claimed that instead of these purposes the club sold liquor to its members, and that when officers had visited the place they had found considerable quantities of beer and whiskey. Charges were brought against four of its members to which they pleaded guilty and paid fines.

It is claimed that since that time the club has not been conducted in accordance with the objects for which it was chartered.

Judge Braham directed the issuance of quo warranto writs, returnable on the first Monday of August.

As He Enters Home

PITTSBURGH, July 15.—Lee Hartley, vice-principal of Schenley high school who was shot by a negro burglar last night when he and his wife returned to their home which was being robbed, was in a serious condition in Mercy hospital today.

Hartley and his wife were confronted by two negroes as they walked into the front door of their home. One of the thugs pulled a revolver from his pocket and threatened them. The man fired when Hartley lunged at him and grappled with him. After shooting, the man and his companion fled. The bullet struck Hartley in the chest.

Every room in the house was ransacked. The burglars also took a white gold wrist watch valued at $85 and a small amount of money.

Preliminary Order Granted By Court

Judge Braham Hands Down
Decision In Case Brought Under Fair Trade Act

In the case of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania against the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, brought by District Attorney John G. Lammone under the Fair Trade Act, which has been before the Lawrence county court for the past two days, Judge W. Walter Braham handed down an opinion shortly before noon today in which he granted a preliminary injunction restraining the defendant from selling Fels Napha soap and Jack Frost sugar below cost. The injunction holds until a final hearing of the case, the date for which has not yet been fixed.

At the final hearing additional testimony will be taken and another order will be made. The case is one in which local wholesale and retail merchants have been vitally interested. It is understood that this is the first case in the state in which proceedings have been brought through an application for an injunction, and the final outcome may hinge on the constitutionality of the Fair Trade act of Pennsylvania.

According to the testimony produced the alleged sales were made below cost price of the commodities and at lower prices than local wholesalers could buy.

Seek Place For Jewish Emigres

(International News Service)
EVIAN-LES-BAINS, France, July 15.—Kenya, Britain's African colony outside the Equator, undeveloped but potentially productive in its temperate Indian regions, today was held out as a possible home for Jewish emigres.

But the final session of the inter-governmental conference on refugees was told by Earl Winterton, chief British delegate, it will be impossible to consider increased Jewish immigration to Palestine, due to the current Arab-Jewish troubles there.

Following unanimous adoption of a resolution establishing a 32-power permanent commission on refugees, the conference adjourned to London on August 3.

In London a general director, probably a prominent American, will be chosen.

Bradford Couple Mystery Unsolved

No Trace Of Alfred Weed And Wife, Sought In West Virginia

(International News Service) MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., July 15.—The disappearance of Alfred Weed, Bradford salesman, and his wife, today remained a mystery to police here as an intensive building to building search failed to reveal any traces of the missing pair.

"We haven't been able to locate a thing of kind, any information which might lead to the finding of the couple," Police Chief Jacob Underdunk told International News Service.

Both the son, Harold, and the stepson, G. Hile Haywood, of Erie, have given up the search for their parents and returned to their homes, it was revealed today.

Yesterday police here expressed some hope of tracking down a clue when it was learned an out-of-state couple had stayed at a farmhouse near here during approximately the same time the Weeds were said to have disappeared, but upon investigation it was found the pair were from New York and not Pennsylvania.

Motor Club Rally Sees 50 Present

New Wilmington Members Invite Friends To Dinner Meeting Thursday

Interest in motor club affairs in New Wilmington was heightened Thursday night when a membership dinner meeting was held by the New Wilmington members of the New Castle Motor club and attended by several officials of the club.

The dinner was held in Wynt's Lodge and at the opening of the service of the meal, Dr. John H. Boyd, a director of the club, asked Rev. W. F. Byers to invoke the blessing upon the diners.

Following the meal Dr. Boyd introduced the president of the New Castle Motor club, Alex Samuels, who spoke briefly upon the club activities and expressed the hope that the New Wilmington membership, pleasing as it was, would grow still larger.

B. N. Hanlon, secretary-manager of the club, was the next speaker, and he dwelt upon the history of the club since its organization in 1907. He related incidents in the early days of the club which sounded amusing in the light of present day traffic, but which were serious problems then.

Mr. Hanlon introduced Edward McNelly, field agent of the American Automobile Association, who spoke on membership and who illustrated his points with charts, maps, pictures and posters.

Mr. McNelly pointed out the fact that there are 24,000,000 motorists in the United States and only about 1,000,000 belong to the AAA. Yet in Great Britain, with about 1,250,000 motorists, nearly 900,000 belong. They take their motor club work more seriously in Great Britain, it appears.

As the meeting broke up, literature and membership blanks were passed around to the men and women present, and a number of new members were signed up.

The "platform" or thick-soled shoe of the club, was the next speaker, is the sensation of the new fall shoe models.

ACCLAIM IS GIVEN FLYING HERO AND HIS COMPANIONS

of paper from torn telephone books were showered upon the hero of the hour.

Hughes smiled and waved to his admirers. Then, behind a motorcycle escort, he raced off to join his four mates at the head of the parade.

Flight Not a Stunt

Just before leaving his hotel, Hughes issued a statement in which he explained his flight was no "stunt" but the carrying out of a "careful plan." He declared he and his companions were not entitled to any particular credit—this they are not supermen.

He paid tribute to aviation in the United States. He pointed out, however, that foreign countries have taken aviation records away from the United States which invented the airplane.

Hughes observed that the speed record for seaplanes is held by Italy, the speed record for land planes by Germany. England holds the altitude record and Russia the distance record. Also that there is talk that our Army and Navy planes do not compare favorably with those of Europe.

"Now if this flight was done a little to show that American engineers can design and American workmen can build just as fine airplanes, engines and aircraft equipment as any in the world, and if it should possibly increase the sale of American planes abroad, and thus create a few new jobs for American men, I shall feel well repaid for my time and effort," said Hughes.

Defeating Cheers

A police guard of honor, consisting of 12 men, escorted Hughes to where the other flyers were picked up and soon were on their way downtown in cars to the Battery.

All along the route they were cheered to the echo. As the motorcycle of World's Fair crew, preceded by a motorcycle escort with sirens blowing, moved along the crowds roared greetings to the daring aviators.

Arriving at the Battery, Hughes and his companions found an immense crowd congregated there. A deafening cheer went up and Hughes smiled and bowed—although shyly. At times he seemed embarrassed and uncomfortable at so much adulation.

Up lower Broadway Hughes and his colleagues were driven. Down upon them from the office buildings were showered spirals of ticker tape and torn bits of paper. Automobile horns honked incessantly and the crowds roared their admiration.

It was reminiscent of the great reception to Lindbergh.

Ostensibly Hughes circled the world to publicize the 1939 fair and his twin-motored Lockheed plane was christened "New York World's Fair 1939."

The tired, unshaven aviators were proclaimed by a surging mob upon returning to Floyd Bennett airport yesterday. Greeted officially by LaGuardia, Whalen and the wives of three of the globe-circlers, the quietest finally were escorted to automobiles and Manhattan spots of refuge.

Despite fatigue and hunger, Hughes took time to discuss the flight thoroughly at the home of Whalen. He conceded being attended by "great luck" as his ship streaked through space and that the flight from New York to Paris was the most perilous.

"I was mainly concerned with getting there because there was too much fuel consumption," admitted the 33-year-old Texan.

The first moments of suspense came during the take-off from Floyd Bennett field, Hughes disclosed. The overladen ship had to be pushed to a ground speed of 125 miles an hour before sufficient speed to lift it off the runway was obtained.

"I took off with a 25,000-pound load while the most I ever rested the plane at, with water-balls in California, was 24,000 pounds," said Hughes.

Anxious Moment

Another anxious phase of the trip was the take-off from Yakutsk, Siberia.

"It's a damn good thing I didn't try to fly out of Yakutsk at night," said Hughes, who did the piloting except when the robot was used.

Maps of Siberia he possessed showed mountain peaks of 6,500 feet, stated the janky pilot, adding: "They were all wrong and I had to draw my own maps."

Asked if he would attempt another world flight at some future time, Hughes shot back:

"Why?"

"That's the best answer in the world," added Whalen.

Hughes left the Whalen home presumably to retire. Instead, he proceeded to the town house of actress Katharine Hepburn with whom his name has been linked romantically. Finding photographers at the Hepburn doorstep, he proceeded to a mid-town hotel and instructed the clerk that he didn't want to be disturbed.

Stoddard, 37-year-old radio engineer, said the flight definitely would be of value to the scientific development of radio because of the success of experimental equipment used.

Members of the crew got only three or four hours of sleep during the journey of nearly four days. They had ample canned goods for provisions and found thirst a more pressing problem than hunger.

Camp Phillips To Observe Council Day On July 28

Local Scout Leaders Look Forward To Big Day At Boy Scout Camp

One of the biggest days on the calendar at Boy Scout Camp Phillips, near Rose Point, is the Council Day.

ing Lawrence County Council Day. This will be observed on July 28 and all scouts in the county will take part.

The scouts will also take part on the afternoon and evening of July 28, to get acquainted with the boys who are doing during their camping period.

An evening meal for the scouts will be served with a nominal charge being made to defray the expenses. This will save the scouts the trouble of bringing a picnic basket.

According to Scout Executive Karl P. Green, the committee in charge is working hard to make this one of the finest Scouters' Day ever has ever been held at Camp Phillips.

Board Accepts Resignation Of Hartman Teacher

Annual Report Of Medical Department Presented At July Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, July 15.—At the July meeting of the Board of Education held last evening in the Lincoln school, the resignation of Miss Hartman, teacher of grade 1 in the Hartman school, was presented and accepted. A recommendation to fill the vacancy was made by Superintendent Bell.

Little more than routine business was transacted. The 1938 tax duplicate has been delivered to the tax collector who is preparing to send out the cards. The tax collector's bond has been approved. At the present time, all school children are being examined.

It was agreed to award the boiler inspection insurance contract to the Hartford company with the company to select the local agency through which the transaction will be handled.

The matter of installing gas shut-off valves at the various schools was tabled until such time as the law becomes compulsory.

Twelve Royal typewriters will be purchased to replace worn out machines in the commercial department.

A loan to meet the July payroll, if necessary, was authorized by the board. A $6,000 tuition payment is expected from the Wayne township board early in August, and if it arrives promptly, the loan may not be necessary.

Charles Hawk was awarded the contract for painting the cornice of the Circle building at a bid of $24.95. Other necessary repairs to the cornice will also be made at this time.

A contract for floor repairs and new covering was given to the Thomas Molding Floor company at a price of $179.

The N. Y. A. shower room project is progressing and the secretary was instructed to advertise for bids for the necessary plumbing work.

Concerning the $650 in misdirected taxes, sent to the North Sewickley township board instead of the local board by the Beaver county treasurer, the secretary has been informed that the matter will be adjusted soon.

Andy Biordi attended the meeting and asked the cooperation of the board in again sponsoring a banquet for the 1938 football team. No decision was reached at this time.

Annual report of the medical department was presented at the meeting and outlined all the activities of the department during the past year. Frequent pupils were fitted with glasses with the examinations and glasses being provided by parents able to pay and $100 given by the Lawrence County Red Cross Chapter. Additional tests were given to many pupils conforming with the law. For the coming year, it will be necessary to have every pupil given an eye test with some scientific appliance. Twenty-one pupils attended the Orthopedic clinic held in February at the Jefferson hospital, New Castle. Psychologist tests were given to 85 pupils. Tuberculin tests were given to 468 pupils with 22 showing a 1 plus reaction, 12 a 2 plus reaction, and 434 a negative reaction.

X-Ray reports of the tests follow:

Negative reading 153
Calcifications, otherwise negative 8
X-ray in one year 36
X-ray in six months 3
X-ray in three months 6
Active Tuberculosis 1
Appearance of a Tuberculous condition 1

Total 213
Toxoid was administered to 233 pupils. Early in June, the pre-school clinic was held with 115 children examined and 36 given Toxoid. Contagious diseases were high all year with mumps, measles, chicken-pox and pink eye leading the list. A class in home hygiene and care of the sick was given each semester.

Rotarians Dine With Boy Scouts At Camp Thompson

H. W. Smith To Give Report Of Rotary International At Next Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, July 15.—Members of the local Rotary club had dinner last evening with the Boy Scouts and their leaders at Camp Thompson.

It was a pleasant variation from the usual scene. The experience was flavored by a shower which came just as the visitors were en route to camp introducing an element of uncertainty as to road conditions when the dinner would be over. Timid members left their cars at the top of the hill while the men of courage drove right on down to camp with admirable nonchalance. Of course, had the rain continued, the admirable courage would have been folly and the shy timidity would have been salty wisdom.

Timid members left their cars at the top of the hill while the men of courage drove right on down to camp with admirable nonchalance. Of course, had the rain continued, the admirable courage would have been folly and the shy timidity would have been salty wisdom.

To those who were visiting the camp for the first time it was a happy surprise to find such a favorable camp site and good equipment. The spacious dining room enabled Scouts and Rotarians to dine at the same time. President Harold Burns was in charge of the meeting and encouraged the Rotarians to set a worthy example of decorum to the boys. The boys enjoyed the evidence of great restraint on the part of their seniors and realized full well that, underneath all that calm exterior, there was boy spirit in abundance.

Invitation was received from the Zellenorle club to join in an inter-club afternoon dinner and evening at the Ellwood City Country club on July 22. Camp visitation afforded the program for the evening. The meeting next week will be in the usual place. Mr. H. W. Smith will tell his experiences in connection with his trip to the International convention at San Francisco and his attendance upon the convention.

CITY SUED OVER FIREWORKS BLAST
PINDLAY O. July 15.—Filing of a $10,000 damage suit against the city recently brought to five the number of suits arising from the explosion of an aerial bomb at Riverside Park on July Fourth two years ago. One person was killed and a score injured.
Public fireworks exhibitions have been eliminated in Findlay since the disastrous exploding two years ago. Council has instructed Solicitor Fred B. Hoyer to draft an ordinance banning all fireworks displays within the city.
Ladybugs are very useful, because they feed chiefly on scale insects and plant lice.

Goes To Isolated Ontario Camp, Finds Part Of The News There

It's very, very true there's no place like home. And when Alderman O. H. P. Green left here recently for a vacation to Madoc, located 30 miles north of Belleville, Ont., he never thought Madoc, isolated Canadian point, would seem anything like home—but it did. "We arrived in the isolated spot three of us," Green said. "We took one cottage, and no one else was around. I happened to walk outside right after we got there, and as I was passing a small building not far from the cottage, planned at a glance of a newspaper on the ground—and saw it was a part of

Three Western Pennsylvanians And One Easterner Left In Tourney

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 15—Three Western Pennsylvanians and a lone Easterner today remained the sole survivors as the twenty-eighth annual Pennsylvania state amateur golf tournament moved into the final day.

After two rugged days of elimination rounds, over the par 72, Fox chapel course had been called, the scorecards showed that for possibly the second time in eight years the west was about to attain the championship.

Jack Benson, current West Penn champion and representing South Hills Country club, will tee off this morning against diminutive Steve Kovach from Brackenridge Heights in one semi-final battle while the East's lone hope, H. H. Hargrave, of Lancaster, will battle it out with Bill Mercer, Shannopin in the other set.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

How about it...a postcard reached our desk today with a couple of sentences reading, "A good all star baseball team of Lawrence County, Pa. play West Pittsburgh Pirates of Lawrence County would like to see this game."...Signed, A. Z...

The question is a mighty good one, we are in favor of sending a game between the champs of the county and an all-star aggregation...this, we believe, would be more appealing as it would present the champs versus a collection of all star timber in local sandlot circles.

While winners, butting stars from districts throughout the county, would attract a fine crowd, after all expenses are deducted, we suggest that the proceeds be divided among charitable organizations.

It is possible that several of the county's most rabid supporters will take up the situation, thus resulting in a grand fall attraction here.

A Mahoningtown contributor... To the Rambling Reporter:

I am a constant reader of your column and as an ardent supporter of the Pirates resent some of your unjust remarks concerning the team's present winning form. Every time the Pirates win a few games or have a winning streak, your column calls them lucky. When another team wins, it seems to be all right. Why don't you give credit where credit is due? I think the Pirates are a nine-man ball club with no Hubbell or Dean to guide the destinies of the team's standing. They are due for a pennant and this is the year. In regard to them thinking they are the Yankees as noted in your column of 7-12, I think they would make the Yankees look like a pack of sissies at the present time. What's happened to the Reds, Reds and other teams who were up on top? You can put this in your column if you wish.

(Signed) CLEM PELOSI, Mahoningtown.

The New Castle Red Sox of the city baseball league will play the Elders A. C. at Lockey field tonight. It was announced by "Howdy"

Curstone Chatter... Andy Lasky, New Castle high star athlete of several years back, mailed us an issued tennis challenge. Lasky is coaching at Cornellsville and is spending the summer here, noticed Tobe Penati, one of the longest distance hitters in golf here, discussing distance on Wash Boule...the way Tobe smashes the small pellet around, he should know something about distance...spotted Carl Clarella along the avenue, more enthusiastic than ever since his Pirates jumped to the top of the National league.

Hillsville Plays Campbell Tonight

Hillsville's baseball team will play under the lights of Idora park tonight, battling Campbell, O. in a second round game in the National Semi-Pro Congress.

Hillsville dusted aside Girard in the opener and stands a good chance of scoring a second victory. Reed, who hurled the locals to victory, will take the rubber game again. Quite a few fans will follow the Hillsville aggregation. The game will start at 9 o'clock.

POINTERS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW!

1. Chimneys should be cleaned and swept now.
2. Doors should be varnished and repaired, too.
3. Windows might need new frames and screens.
4. Roofing should be taken care of for leakage.

Council Probe In Pittsburgh Strikes Snag

Testimony In "Consent Verdicts" Inquiry Emphatically Conflicts

ATTORNEYS DENY STATEMENT MADE

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 15.—City council's attempt to investigate the record total of consent verdicts doled out by city solicitor Churchill Mehard without benefit of jury trials was temporarily snagged today on the heels of controversial testimony.

Two attorneys, Morris G. Levy and Sumner Rosenwasser, vehemently denied the allegations of a woman witness that they retained $2,500 out of the $6,500 consent verdict to be returned to some one who was able or instrumental in getting the money.

Levy and Rosenwasser just as vehemently denied that they ever gave or offered to give Mehard or any of his aides any reward or promise of reward or that Mehard or his assistants had given any impression such a reward would be welcome.

Mrs. Plank and her husband, Cameron Plank, testified they were told in Levy's office before receiving their share of the verdict for a fall Mrs. Plank suffered on a city maintained boardwalk, that the $2,000 was being retained for another purpose.

"I didn't believe him then and I don't believe him now," Mrs. Plank said of Levy.

Plank and his wife testified that after various deductions they received $2,500 from the $6,500 which Mehard agreed to give them. This represented the 60 per cent of the proceeds previously agreed upon with Rosenwasser, they testified.

The attorneys, whose testimony enlightened the third day of the investigation, made a blanket denial of these charges and Rosenwasser further asserted the planks were misled because he denied them $520 for the services of a maid at $10 a week for a year in the final settlement.

New Outbreak In Jerusalem

British Troops Compelled To Fire On Arab Crowd After Bomb Explosion

(Associated Press Service)
JERUSALEM, July 15.—A full-scale outbreak of rioting which British authorities hoped would grow into a "riot" was shattered today by the renewed burst of bombs and crack of rifles.

Wounding three, one fatally British troops were compelled to fire on an Arab crowd attempting to invade the Jewish quarter of Safad following the explosion of a bomb in the Arab section.

The situation, after a couple of days of quiet, immediately returned to the dangerous tension which had prevailed for two weeks, during which more than 150 persons were killed and twice as many wounded.

Arabs staged excited demonstrations in Jerusalem when three of their race were killed by a bomb.

Three bombs were thrown in Safad, and several shops were looted and burned, in spite of the presence of the British battle cruiser Repulse.

Report Hughes Made Visit To Miss Hepburn

Left Hotel In Secret Last Night According To Reports Today

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 15.—Those three days and 19 hours in which Howard Hughes flew around the world apparently were only an interruption in his reported romance with Katharine Hepburn.

As soon as Hughes awakened this morning in his hotel suite, he was on the telephone talking to the star. And last night, after having a "don't disturb" sign on his door, he was reported to have gone out for an automobile ride on Long Island with a handsome girl "resembling Katharine Hepburn."

Regarding the rumored motor trip to Long Island, the Journal American said in an exclusive story:

"Hughes and his attractive companion drove in a black limousine to the home of his friend, Sherman M. Fairchild, airplane manufacturer, at Lloyd's Neck, an isolated strip of land near Huntington."

"Not expecting the visit, Fairchild was in New York and Temple, the butler, was the only person in the house."

"The young woman who 'somewhat resembled' Miss Hepburn remained in the car while Hughes entered the 30-room mansion. The butler explained Fairchild had left because the pump had broken down and there was no running water in the house."

"Hughes asked where he and his companions could eat and left after receiving directions."

"Of course it was Mr. Hughes," snapped Temple, the butler, when asked whether he was certain of the identity of the caller.

"Mrs. Hepburn came to New York yesterday from her country home at Old Saybrook, Conn. Romantic rumors long have linked the actress and the sportsman-aviator."

"From the town house Miss Hepburn put a call in to Floyd Bennett field and left a message for Hughes. Because of the crowds, a field employee was unable to get Hughes the message. It was relayed to him later, after he had left the airport."

Commonwealth Is Near End Of Case At Smethport, Pa.

Joseph Ferraino, 42, On Trial For Killing Of His Wife

(International News Service)
SMETHPORT, Pa., July 15.—The commonwealth today approached the end of its case against Joseph Ferraino, 42, accused of murdering his wife.

Ferraino's name was linked romantically with that of a Sheffield, Pa., woman by witnesses for the commonwealth. Mrs. James Vincent, a boarding operator in Sheffield where Ferraino lived, while working there, told the jury he visited the woman's house several times.

Another witness, Clarence Horner, of Westline, said Ferraino introduced the woman to him as his sister-in-law and two other witnesses testified they saw them riding together in a car.

Ferraino has claimed his wife was accidentally shot when a gun he was cleaning was discharged but his 18-year-old son, Joseph Jr., told police the man deliberately aimed the gun at his wife and pulled the trigger.

The commonwealth charges two motives for a murder. One was a $1,000 insurance policy recently taken out on Mrs. Ferraino with double indemnity for accidental death. The other is the Sheffield, Pa., woman.

Married Teachers Must Resign, Say Members Of Board

(International News Service)
SOMERSET, Pa., July 15.—Somerset borough school board today had followed the example of the Johnstown school board in requesting its married teachers to resign.

Johnstown's school board informed the teachers by letter that they should resign to make way for unmarried younger persons and because marriage clothed them with a dual responsibility and reduced their efficiency as teachers.

It was believed these actions may result in a court test of the new teachers' tenure law.

The U. S. acquired Pago Pago, capital of American Samoa, in 1872 when it was ceded by the native king for use as a coaling station and naval base.

Negroes-Whites
In Heated Riot
At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 15.—A score of whites and negroes from the Northside and Lawrenceville were in jail today as the result of the year's most serious rioting between the two groups.

For more than an hour police squads rushed into the section from other areas, but was helpless in their attempts to stem the rioting as roving bands of white and negro youths ran through the streets wreaking vengeance on each other. Large stores of bricks and rocks and clubs were confiscated by police.

The rioting climaxed attempts of white youths to keep negro youths from West Park on the Northside and Arsenal Park in Lawrenceville. Last night's rioting was precipitated by the attempt of a negro youth to dance with a white girl at Arsenal Park.
